Blackboard Ultra is an upgraded version of Blackboard Collaborate; a web conferencing and virtual classroom system that allows for online interaction. Blackboard Ultra has been incorporated into the Moodle learning management system.

Virtual classrooms are useful when situations prevent you from having face-to-face sessions with your class, such as teaching students who are geographically disadvantaged. If for some reason, students cannot participate in the live sessions, they can view and listen to the recorded sessions later. The recorded sessions can also be used by students to review their discussions at a later stage.

For a more detailed outline on how Blackboard may be useful for you see; https://teaching.unsw.edu.au/Moodle-Blackboard-Collaborate-Ultra#use